Where can I get free legal advice?

You may have already received a legal consultation from DIRE. If not, you can call our hotline to request one: (888) 347-3767.

Another option is the Detention and Deportation Defense Initiative (DDDI), a service that provides free attorney consultations to New Jersey residents in detention. Click this link to request one. They will call the detained person directly within 2-3 weeks.

Can I pay a private attorney to help with my case?

Here is a list of immigration attorneys, grouped by office location. Those marked with a [*] handle habeas corpus cases. They may file a separate case in federal court – not immigration court – to argue that this detention by the government is illegal.
